

Personality Tips for Successful Parenting

Get it Done Mobilizer Parent

- Parent with love and a bit of gentleness.
- Don't forget to smile.
- Parent with boldness and courage.
- Teach your children leadership by delegating when possible.

Remember—Parenting by a checklist is not always the best way!

Life of the Party Socializer Parent

- Don't let spontaneity cloud your judgment.
- Parent with genuineness and love.
- Even though you don't like making decisions, keep your child's best interests at heart and persevere.
- Help your children view life not so much as a party but as a constant source of joy.

Remember—You are the fun-loving parent, but not all children appreciate frivolity.

Keep the Peace Stabilizer Parent

- Parenting with patience is one of your strengths.
- Stretch yourself and volunteer to help in your children's activities.
- Parent calmly with love.
- Find a friend so you can encourage one another.

Remember—Your non-confrontational personality may lead to enabling.

Everything in Order Organizer Parent

- Cultivate friendships with other who are involved with your children such as coaches and teachers.
- Parent with love, outwardly showing your enjoyment of your family.
- Sometimes it's best not to give all the details in one sitting.
- Even though the family has rules, occasionally loosen the boundaries to create a little fun.

Remember—No family is perfect and it's okay if you aren't either.
